How about...

Air monitoring data has been collected by EPA around the Arkema facility for the health and safety of response personnel. The air data revealed very low detections for sulfur dioxide on August 31 and September 01. Sulfur dioxide has not been detected since. On September 3, VOC was detected but at approximately 25 times less than the level of concern.

Jon/Philip – David Gray is requesting we developed some statements about what the attached data means. We do not want the public or the media interpreting the data for us. Mary asked the EU to craft a statement explaining the data?

She would like something by 2:00 today.
